How risky is it?

The value of the Fund can go down as well as up. You could lose money.

One way to gauge risk is to look at how much a fund's returns change over time. This is called "volatility". In general, funds with higher volatility will have returns that change more over time. They typically have a greater chance of losing money and may have a greater chance of higher returns. Funds with lower volatility tend to have returns that change less over time. They typically have lower returns and may have a lower chance of losing money.

No guarantees

Like most mutual funds, the Fund doesn't have any guarantees. You may not get back the amount of money you invest.

Risk rating

The Manager has rated the volatility of this Fund as medium.

Because this is a new fund, the risk rating is only an estimate by the Manager. Generally, the rating is based on how much the fund's returns have changed from year to year. It doesn't tell you how volatile the fund will be in the future. The rating can change over time. A fund with a low risk rating can still lose money.

For more information about the risk rating and specific risks that can affect the Fund's returns, see the section "What are the risks of investing in the Fund" in the Fund's simplified prospectus.

How has the Fund performed?

This section tells you how Series A units of the Fund have performed over the past year. Returns are after Fund expenses have been deducted. These expenses reduce the Fund's returns.

Year-by-year returns

This chart shows how Series A units of the Fund performed in the past year. The Fund dropped in value in the past year. The range of returns and change from year to year can help you assess how risky the Fund has been in the past. It does not tell you how the Fund will perform in the future.

Best and worst 3-month returns

This table shows the best and worst returns for the Series A units of the Fund in a 3-month period over the past calendar year to March 31, 2017. The best and worst 3-month returns could be higher or lower in the future. Consider how much of a loss you could afford to take in a short period of time.

	Return	3 months ending	If you invested $1,000 at the beginning of the period
Best return	16.3%	5/31/2016	Your investment would rise to $1,163
Worst return	-14.7%	9/30/2015	Your investment would drop to $853

Average return

The annual compounded return of Series A units of the Fund was -17.9% since inception. If you had invested $1,000 in Series A units of the Fund since inception, your investment would be worth $821 on March 31, 2017.

Who is this Fund for?
Investors who are:

- seeking long-term capital growth through exposure to global equities
- able to accept some variability of returns
- investing for the medium to long term

 Do not invest in this Fund if you are adverse to investments in foreign equities or need a steady source of income.

A word about tax

In general, you pay tax on any money you make on the Fund, including your share of the Fund's earnings and on taxable capital gains from redeeming your investment. How much tax you pay depends on your tax laws where you live and whether or not you hold the Fund in a registered plan and the type of earnings of the Fund (e.g. interest, dividends, capital gains, etc.). In general, you don't pay tax on investments held in a registered retirement savings plan, tax-free savings account or other registered plan.

If you hold your investment outside of a registered plan, you will receive a tax slip that shows your share of the Fund's earnings. You must include the amounts shown in your income whether you get them in cash or have them reinvested. You must calculate your taxable capital gains from a redemption.

How much does it cost?

The following tables show the fees and expenses you could pay to buy, own and sell Series A units of the Fund. The fees and expenses – including any commissions – can vary among series of a fund and among funds. Higher commissions can influence representatives to recommend one investment over another. Ask about other funds and investments that may be suitable for you at a lower cost.

1. Sales charges

You have to choose a sales charge option when you buy Series A units of the Fund. Ask about pros and cons of each option.

Sales charge option	What you pay		How it works
	in per cent (%)	in dollars ($)
Initial Sales Charge Option	0% to 6% of the amount you buy	$0 to $60 on every $1,000 you buy	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> You and your representative's firm negotiate the rate of commission that you pay when you buy units. It is deducted from the amount you sell/change and is a percentage of the original cost of the investment being redeemed/changed. When you buy the Fund, the Manager pays your representative's firm a commission of 5% of the amount you invest. When you sell/change units any deferred sales charge you pay goes to the Manager. You can sell/change up to 10% of your units each year without paying a deferred sales charge. You cannot carry forward any unused amounts. This does not apply if you are redeeming/changing all your units of the Fund purchased under this purchase option. You can switch to the same series of another fund we offer without paying a deferred sales charge. The deferred sales charge schedule of the new units will be based on the purchase date of the original units you purchased.

It is deducted from the amount you sell/change and is a percentage of the original cost of the investment being redeemed/changed. When you buy the Fund, the Manager pays your representative's firm a commission of 2.5% of the amount you invest. When you sell/change units any low load sales charge you pay goes to the Manager. You can sell/change up to 10% of your units each year without paying a low load sales charge. You cannot carry forward any unused amounts. This does not apply if you are redeeming/changing all your units of the Fund purchased under this purchase option. More about the trailing commission

The trailing commission is an ongoing commission. It is paid for as long as you own the Fund. It is for the services and advice that your representative and their firm provide to you. The Manager pays the trailing commission to your representative's firm. It is paid from the Fund's management fee and is based on the value of your investment. The rate depends on the sales charge option you chose.

	in per cent (%)	in dollars ($)
Initial Sales Charge Option	1.0% of the value of your investment each year	$10 each year for every $1,000 invested
