FUND COMMENTARY (As at June 30, 2018)

For the period December 31, 2017 to June 30, 2018, the Fund's Series F had a return of 1.3% while the Fund's broad based benchmark, the MSCI World Total Return Index rose 5.4%.

EPSO4 completed its first closing as of March 27, 2018 having received approximately US$884 million in total commitments. The Fund committed US$8.3 million to EPSO4.

EPSO4 issued the first capital call of circa 6% of its funds due by March 27, 2018 and subsequently issued its second capital call for funds by April 13, its third capital call by June 14 and fourth capital call by June 21. Therefore, currently EPSO4 has called US$1.697 million equating to about 20.5% of the US$8.3 million committed, which as at June 30th was about 29% of the Fund.

EnTrustPermal is planning a second closing of EPSO4, currently to be by the end of September. Prior to a second closing of EPSO4, the Fund will look to increase its commitment in EPSO4, depending on the levels of new subscriptions received and expected over the next 12 – 18 months.

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS AND OUTLOOK

This period since the Great Recession is one of the longest ever stretches of rising markets. Cyclically and inflationary adjusted earnings over the last ten years compared to prices suggests in our view that the current market is fully valued. In addition, the U.S. Treasury Yield curve, reflecting the difference between 2-year and 10-year Treasury yields has flattened to levels not seen in a decade. A negative yield is ordinarily an indicator of recession and therefore while we do not see a near-term catalyst to initiate a market correction, such as recession or weakening confidence, such a correction is, at least statistically, due in our view and vulnerable to geopolitical events, not least trade protectionism and a tightening credit policy in China.

In the near-term while strengthening economies trump the shenanigans of popularity politics across Europe and the Americas, bond markets face rising rates for the first time in some four decades, which is likely to create significant asset reallocations and liquidity issues, leading to increased periods of volatility. Despite, the political turmoil, central bankers have steered the global economy away from the Great Recession. While increased volatility may be unsettling, it is to be expected as rates rise and quantitative easing (i.e. bonds purchasing) is replaced with quantitative firming (i.e. bonds sales by Central Banks) as Central Banks wear their country's off support mechanisms and towards more normal rates and markets. Also as the U.S. proceeds towards trade 'wars' rather than an infrastructure agenda and the U.K.'s 'Brexit' negotiations with the E.U. remain protracted, there is plenty of scope for turmoil.

At such times, we believe a pivot towards 'value' rather than

'growth' criteria is likely to predominate as investors seek businesses that are priced reasonably, particularly in a reflationary environment. Overall, we believe that the Fund is currently well positioned to meet its investment objective for the medium to long term.

We are enthusiastic about the opportunity set for EPSO4's event-driven, multi-strategy managers. We expect corporate activity to remain elevated following the US corporate tax reform. There was over US$1 trillion in cash held overseas by S&P 500 companies that is expected to be repatriated based on incentives created in the tax bill largely held by technology and healthcare companies. While much of the formerly-stranded cash may be deployed towards debt reduction, stock buy-backs and increased dividends, the amounts are so large that even a partial deployment towards M&A would equate to a substantial deal flow. We believe the outlook and opportunity set across the major asset classes is now driven by the overarching belief that central banks must begin tightening, inflation may surprise to the upside and volatility will be elevated relative to recent history. As such, we believe EPSO4 has the ability to source and execute upon a diverse pool of idiosyncratic, company-specific situations, where in partnership with its managers, it has the potential to shape, drive and influence desired outcomes for the benefit of its investors, i.e. our Fund.

Potential Risks

The Manager believes the following risks are key to the performance of the Fund: consequences of failure to satisfy capital calls, interest rate changes, credit risk, currency risk, market risk, liquidity risk and event driven risks. This activist investment strategy may require, among other things: (i) that the EnTrustPermal Manager properly identify portfolio companies whose securities prices can be improved through corporate and/or strategic action; (ii) that EPSO4 or subsequent investments acquire sufficient securities of such portfolio companies at a sufficiently attractive price; (iii) that EPSO4 or subsequent investments avoid triggering anti-takeover and regulatory obstacles while aggregating its position; (iv) that management of portfolio companies and other security holders respond positively to the EnTrustPermal Manager's proposals; and (v) that the market price of a portfolio company's securities increases in response to any actions taken by portfolio companies. There can be no assurance that any of the foregoing will succeed. Please read the "Risk Factors" sections in the Offering Memorandum for a more detailed description of all the relevant risks.
